IMPORTANT BAILROAD BILL.

fron Bridges to be Ordered Along All Railroad Routes.

Underground Transit for the Metropolis.

ALBANY, Feb. 10, 1871 The "Boss's" Senate bill to supply New York city with pure and wholesome water made its appearance in the lower house to-day. It will be rebered that the republicans held a cancus the her night, at which it was determined to take the ration of this bill out of the hands of the Committee on the Affairs of Cities and have it reto the Committee on Internal Affairs. It leaked out the night of the caucus that there were a few of the republicans who kicked against the party es; not openly, it is time, but then, when the canous vote was taken the, higgled and piggled about it in such a way that the leaders felt that something ore than a party tie was necessary to keep them well in hand for the time when the question would come up before the House. There was therefore a ttle excitement when the bill was taken up by the Olerk and its title read this morning. Alverd sprang to his feet at once, but the Speaker was too quick for him, and hurriedly exclaimed, "The bill will be referred to the Committee on the Affairs of Cities." Down went the gavel with

A BINGING RAP, and up went Alverd's voice:-"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, I move to refer the bill to the Committee on Internal Affairs." Hitchman hesitated for a nd and then quickly replied:-"I will inform the gentleman from Onondaga that the bill has been already referred." Now it was a very nice estion of time in the mind of the Giant whether the reference had really been made before his motion had reached the Speaker's ears, so when he heard the decision he looked about him in a kind of haif bewilderment, while his fellow releans, who knew of the importance of the move he had made, began to look very uneasy. Alvord finally recovered from his astonishment, and warmly remarked that it was the Speaker's duty to recognize a member when he rose to make a motion in the Proper time. Hitchman looked nettled, but, putting his most winsome smile, he informed the Chant that if he would then and there make a motion to discharge the Committee on the Affairs of Cities from ferred to the Committee on Internal Affairs he would entertain it "by courtesy." The Giant took the chance, and the yeas and pays were at once called upon the motion. The excitement now recohed its neight. The republicats "by courtesy" had get just what they thought they could get by right, and that was to place

EVERYBODY ON THE RECORD.

Before the Clerk criled the first name Alverd was in his feet again. He wanted to make converts to his side of the question, and to do so a little talk was lecessary. He began—This bill, sir," said he, "presones to supply New York with pure and wholesome water, but it authorizes the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works to go into divers and undry counties of this State and invade hamlets, vicing and or the propriet of the record of the propriets and contrast of the record of the contrast of the propriet. sundry counties of this State and invade hamiets, vilages, springs and other property of the people of the counties. The bill is of such a sweeping character that it ought to go to the Committee on Internal Affairs. True, the bill gives pure and wholesome water to New Tork; but the other counties have rights which ought to be guarded." This was a square bid for the rural vote of both sides. Finally the yeas and nays were called, resulting as follows:—

Vyman—48.

J. Brown, Buck, Buckley, D. Burns, Campbell,
Hambers, Cote, Comonly, Conseigns, Cook, Coyto, Jecker, Freids, Flags, R. Fianagan, Flecke, Freids, Griffiah Harver, Hayes, D. B. Hill, J. W. Hill, Howe,
Jacobs, Joy, Kelly, Krack, G. D. Lord, Loutrel, Foz. Moseley, Muliaul, Karphy, Niebolas, Oalley, O'Neil, Randall, Ransom, Ray, Roche, Bitchman, in, Sweet, Fan Eyek, Van Steenburgh, Wainwright, ary, Weed, Wiley, Woolney—22.

Waterbury, Weed, Wiley. Woolacy—22.

The republicans, when the vote was announced, looked damfoundered. They expected to get defeated, but they did not expect that the defeat would be a Waterloo. What induced Blackall, Gifford, J. W. Hill, Sunderlin and Woolacy, all republicans, to go back on the caucus the leaders were at a loss to understand, right in the face of the fact that Drew and Chamberialn (democraby) went with the opposition. Tweeder clerks during the voting were filtring about, hvely as files in summer time, and one of them hurriedly left the chamber at its close, with a list of the vote, which he gave the "Boss." The great man seemed to be highly delighted at the vote, but took good care, on examining the list, to put under the names of the gemocrats who had voted to take the matter out of the heads of his pet committee below stairs. They will beer from the "Boas" soon, thai's certain. One very strange fact about the taking of the vote was the absence of soveral of the members who very often have the misfortune of tedux away whenever tacy are wanted. Either this were neely fixed beforehald and "accidented were neely fixed beforehald and the fixed to the fixed of the fixed beforehald and the care of taste. I do not mean to say that everybody knew when the bill was to show kielf, but it did not come up so early in the morning that everybody knew when the bill was to show kielf, but it did not come up so early in the morning that everybody knew when the bill was to show kielf, but it did not come up so early in the morning that everybody knew when the bill was to show kielf, but it did not come up so early in the morning that everybody knew when the mean somewhat late. Little-john, for instance, when the vote was taken, was not on hand, but he was shortly after the question had been settled. When the Carey case was voted upon he was absent, but when he did show up the next day he requisted that his vote should be recorded against the majority report, and his request was granted. He made no request to have his vote recorded to-day when he came in after the reference vote of Tweed's bill had been taken. He probably had not heard that the republicans wanted all the votes they could get when the question would come up.

nad not heard that the republicans wanted all the votes they could get when the question would come up.

RAILROADS TO PROTECT TRAYELLERS.

Mr. Ray's bill for the better protection of hie and property on railroads is a very important one, probably the most important of the kind introduced this session. It provides that it shall not be lawful for the president, directors or executive committee of any railroad company doing business in this State to decare or pay any dividends or interest, or cancel or pay any of the principal of any stock or serip, certificates or other evidences of indebtedness which does not represent capital actually subscribed for and paid into the treasury of the company, and which has been actually expended in the construction or equipment of the road until it has substituted in the construction of the RRON ERIBOES in all places where wooden bridges are now in use. The expenses incurred in the construction of the bridges taust be paid for out of the surplus carnings of the roads, after the necessary expenses of operating and maintaining them shall have been provided for, and the payment of seven per eent per annum on the amount of their funded indeptedess, and seven per cent annual report made to the State Engineer September 20, 1870, except in the cases of the New York Central. Hudson River and Eric Railroad Companies, whose capital stock entitled to dividends on the amount of stock represented by these companies in their report to the State Engineer September 20, 1870, except in the cases of the New York Central. Hudson River and Eric Railroad Companies, whose capital stock entitled to dividends in the interest of the State Engineer and Surveyor for the year ending September 20, 1896. Transportation of petroleum, coal et di crother explosive or inflamma ble fluids, except in tanks hade of the best quality of toller trop, is proschiled, and any train carrying any explesive or inflammate in the moving at a higher rate of speed than to a darage.

or coach to remain locked while a train is in motion.

On freight trains the company is required by the act to have a brakeman at every interval of seven cars.

Until the bridges provided for by the bill shall have been created trains are probabled from passing over any swing or draw bridge without first coming to a full stop, and no train will be allowed to cross any bridge before lackening its speed, or more than one train to be on any she bridge at the same time. Blandages for accidents are to be detarmined by trail by jury, and $25,000 is fixed as the maximum sum that can be recovered for there is an opportunity for everybody to take a silce of profit out of a measure if the winds blow favorably. The day previous the House made a great hubbut about what an "grault" it was for one committee to try to get hold of another committees a guestion of choice as between two committees came up it turned right about and went dead against its own declarations. Of ceurse for a matter to be referred to the Committee of the Whole before being handled by a standing committee is not the same thing as giving a bill into the mands of one standing committee that belongs to another; but the way the thing was done to-day gave evidence of cliner of two things—that the House was in true earnest about the matter and was determined not to allow the Rafroad Committee a chance to tamper with the oill in any way, or that those who voted to keep the committees hands off de not believe in its members getting the lion's share of whatever may be made in a "legitimate" way, if the people whom the bill is almed at want to sill it at any price. In one respect the vote, if prompted by honest motives, was a move in the right direction. If followed up in any case where important interests are at stake it will do an inoal-onlable amount of good, and sound the death knell of more than one legislative "ring."

So fur 578 bills have been introduced into the Assembly, just one more than for the same period last year.

THE NEW YORK WATER SUPPLY.

The Senate bill providing for a further supply of water for New York was panounced and reterred by the Chair to the Committee on Cities and Villages.

Mr. ALYORD moved to refer to the Committee on Internal Affairs. He maintained that the bill's provisions were auch as affected the internal affairs of Westchester and Putnam counties as well as those of New York, and the committee be named was the most appropriate.

Mr. GOODRIGH sustained this proposition. The bill, he said, conferred unusual and extraordinary powers upon certain officers of New York. He referred to the provisions of the bill which empowered action affecting the interests of other localities as well as that of New York.

Nr. FIELITS and it had always been usual to refer such matters to the Committee on Cities and Villages.

Mr. Alvord's motion was lost—45 to 62—alf the republicans rouling in the affirmative, and the bill went to the Committee on Cities and Villages.

The Capitol Commissioners, in reply to a resolution of the House, reported that the work on the new Capitol had been suspended only temporarily, owing to the extreme cold weather.

Naval Staff Etiquotte-The Latest Style in Visiting Cards.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-

The following card, omitting the name in print, is worth publishing as a sample of the latest thing out in that line:-

SURGEON U. S. NAVY.
Ranks with Lieutenant Colonel in the Army and Commander in the Navy.
In Charge of Hospital,
U. S. S.

There is a tittle anecdote in connection with the above card which has made it quite distinguished. above card which has made it quite distinguished. In the year 1868 the flagship of the Admiral commanding the Imperial Russian squadron serving in the East Indies entered the port of Hong Hong, China; and, while receiving visits from commanding officers of all naval vessels assembled in the harbor offering the usual maval courtesies, the wearer of this card appeared on board, was received and entertained as commander of the United States ship—, and succeeded in carrying off that impression, which was only discovered to be an erroneous one by the real commander of the——being interrogated on the subject by the Russian Admiral on the occasion of a ceremonious visit to the Admiral a few days afterward. The Admiral and the Russian officers desired to know who the other captain was who had made the first call soon after their arrival, and they appeared quite puzzled when it was explained to them that the gentleman was only the surgeon of the I——.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-The following was the opinion of many of the oldest and most distinguished officers on the Navy list in 1850, on staff rank, and its injurious operation upon the discipline, harmony and general good of upon the discipline, harmony and general good of the naval service:—

PHILADELPHIA, March, 1850.

To the Hon, William Balland Preston, Secretary of the Navy:—
Sir.—We, the undersigned officers, recognizing you as the proper authority to approach, in behalf of the discipline of the service, respectfully ask your attention to the ensuing remarks and subjoined communication.

The anxiety for military rank of late years displayed by the surgeons and pursers has been viewed with distrust and solicitude by every reflecting and experienced mina. Willing as we were to extend every mark of coartesy to a most deserving body of our brother officers, we saw cause to fear that the late regulations of the Hon. Messrs. Bancroft and Mason (assimilating rank) would engender a spirit they little contemplated, and broduce a feeling destructive to the discipline and harmony of the service.

In a late published pamphlet we observe an ap-vice.

In a late published pamphlet we observe an appeal is now made to Congress, exhi iting this disposition in pretentions entirely subversive of every military principle. We have, therefore, now no course left but to invoke the actions of the department upon a success of important to the highest interest of our naval service.

We have, sir, the honor to be, very repectfully, your obedient servants.

The above was signed by twenty-five captains. thirty-nine commanders and seventy-nine licutenants.

The Printing Press at the Breoklyn Navy Yard-The Truth Regarding It. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-I am efficially informed that the wittleisms of the

New York Tribune relative to the use of the "Press in the Brooklyn Navy Yard" are untrue:—

1. The only press in the yard is on the Vermont receiving ship, and it is not and never was the prop-receiving ship, and it is not an executive to entry of the government.

2. The paper used on the occasions referred to was private property.

3. During the administration of the present commandant no orders or directions have been received from Admiral Porter, as charged.

So much for a ha qut of whole cloth.

BREVITY.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

On 'Chango to-day wheat was more are and firm. The cotten market was quiet and steady, MONEY POUR PER CENT.

On call the brokers generally supplied themselves with money at four per cent, but paid five per cent in some instances. On governments the rate was uniformity four per cent.

Discounts were easter, and prime names were quoted 6% a 7 per cent.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE PIRM. There was a fair demand for bills for the steamer salling to-morrow, and foreign exchange closed with saling to morrow, and loreign exchange closed with a rather firmer tone at the following quotations:— Sterling sixty days, commercial, 100 a 100%; good to prime bankers, 100% a 100%; do. short right, 110% a 110%; Antwerp, 6.10% a 6.12%; Switzerland, 5.15 a 5.12%; Hamburg, 35% a 35%; Amsterdam, 40% a 41%; Frankfort, 40% a 41%; Bremen, 75% a 79%; Prussian thalers, 71% a 71%, market closing firm. GOVERNMENTS STRONG AND HIGHER.

The government bond market was again strong and active, with a further snarp rise in prices. The demand comes from savings banks and capitalists seeking a temporary investment for money at rates better than afforded in the open money market, the buying being more confident in view of the prospective settlement of the Alabama claims question. At the close the best prices were maintained, as follows:—United States currency sixes, 112% a 112%; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 114% a 114%; do. do., coupon, 114%; a 114%; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 111% a 111%; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 11234 a 11234; do. do., 1864, do. do., 11134 a 11134; do. do., 1865, do. do., 11134 a 11134; do. do., registered, January and July, 110 a 1101; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 110 a 110%; do. do., 1807, do. do., 110% a 110%; do. do., 1808, do. do., 110% a 110%; do. ten-forties, registered, 107% a 108; do. do., co upon, 110% a 111.

GOLD STRONG AND STEADY—111% A 111%.

The gold market, curiously enough, has been affected in a contrary manner to what might have been anticipated as a result of the negotiations now pending for a settlement of the questions in dispute between this country and Great Britain. On the one hand the impression exists that England is disembarrassing herself of the Alabama claims matter only as a preparation for a war with Russia. On the other hand the rise in the domestic prices of our government securities not only precludes their shipment to Europe but invites the teturn of bonds from abroad. Hence the gold market becomes stronger, although the advance to-day was not material. The only quotations were 111% a 111%. The uncovered short interest is yet large, judging from the rates in the loan market. The changes in the price to-day

The stock market was strong and displayed more movement. The outside demand is at present running freely on the various rallway mortgages, and the dealings at the board to-day were largely made up of transactions in these securities, as an inspection of the recorded sales will show. There is more speculation in the leading bonds of the Southern States and the market exhibited unusual strength. The North Carolinas continued to advance. OBITUARY.

The overwhelming calamity in which Dr. Samuel J. G. Nancrede perished, crushing the hearts of his friends and casting a deep gloom over the city, has almost paralyzed the hand that would commemorate almost paralyzed the hand that would commemorate his spotless lite and appalling death. Willingly would the writer commend the task to chronicle his vartues and portray the highnobility of his nature to other and less feeble hands. The tribute his merit claims may not, nowever, go tunbestowed while friendship languishes for the polished pen of the eulogist and the brighter creations of art are lost in the wind ocean of sorrow and of rears. He lived in the sunshine of truth, and his life was one consistent panegyric. Brave, frank and generous, he was yet firm in those purposes which to his mind seemed marked and proper, impelled always by a high sense of honor and a leeling of manly pride. No man was more ready to atone for a wrong, none more susceptible to the slightest breath of Samme. To his friends he was open and unreserved, and his countenance was the narror that reflected the vet unspoken thought of his mind. Still is now that voice which has so often lent encouragement to his desponding friends and realimated their drooping spirits; fixed are those eyes which have so often beamed with love and affection: lifeless is the hand that was ever ready to upraise itself in defence of those he loved, or to protect the powerless against the anchecked lerocity of the oppressor; pusieless, motionless, the heart where noner and truth had fixe their indeed, was that life's summer of existence with which her youthful fancy had beguited ther!

Farewell, my friend: his spotless lite and appalling death. Willingly would

Parewell, my friend:

Professor Hyncinih R. Agnel. A despatch from the Superintendent of the Mili-tary Academy at West Point reports the sudden tary Academy at West Point reports the sudden death from apoptexy of Hyacinth R. Agnet, professor of the French language in that institution. He was a native of France, and was fix advanced in years. Thirty years ago he was appointed to the professorship, and which he held without interruption to the time of his death. He was the author of "Agnet's Tabular System"—a text book in good repute among teachers of French. Mr. Agnet was nightly esteemed by the unany graduates of West Point who have studied under his direction, as well as by all the officers who have been associated with thin at the Military Academy.

Rev. Henry Melvill.

A cable telegram from London reports the death of the Rev. Henry Melvili, one of the cheplains to the Queen, in the seventy-third year of his age. He the Queen, in the seventy-third year of his age. He was born in 1793, and was educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he graduated B. A. in 1821. Entering the ministry he was appointed incumbent of Canaden chapel, Camberwell, in 1830, and in 1840 became chapel, in to the Tower of London and was elected to the Golden Lectureship at St. Margaret's, Lothbury. This latter position he resigned in 1856, when he was made a canon of St. Paal. The reverent gentleman was for many years one of the Cueen's chaplains, and was distinguished for the finish and eloquence of his sermons. He was the author of "Sermons Preached Before the University of Cambridge," "Sermons Preached on Public Occasions," "Golden Lectures at Lothbury," "Solestion from Lectures at St. Margaret's' and numerous Occasions," "Golden Lectures at Lothbury," "Selection from Lectures at St. Margaret's" and numerous other religious works,

THE VETERAN RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-I hereby acknowledge the receipt of the following I hereby acknowledge the receipt of the following sums for the benefit of Augustus L. Rashier, 123 Suffolk street.—T. F. W. Taylor ten dollars and W. B. Hincks fitty cents; total, $10 50.

I would suggest as probably the best plan for permanent relief that twenty-five persons subscribe one dollar per monta. In this way a comfortable living can be secured for the veteran and his wife. Five persons have pledged themselves for this amount. Who will be one of the remaining twenty?
